

LE TRUNG DUY

Front-end Developer

I am a passionate front-end developer with four years of hands-on experience in web experiences. Throughout my journey, I have experienced in HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and React.js and other modern front-end technologies.

As a front-end developer, I understand the importance of collaborating effectively with designers, back-end developers, and other stakeholders to bring projects to fruition. My strong communication and problem-solving skills have played a crucial role in delivering successful projects and fostering a positive working environment.

I am excited to continue growing as a front-end developer, working on cutting-edge projects, and contributing my skills to create remarkable web applications that make a difference.
